BELMONT ABBEY
College
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT
BELMONT, NORTH CAROLINA

A Message from the President:

A student is not long at Belmont Abbey College before he realizes that the Abbey is, for him, something more than a school. He comes to see it as a way of life, a setting in which he finds opportunities for personal expansion on all levels: intellectual, social, supernatural.

In the classroom and in informal discussions, in the festive atmosphere of a formal ball, on the playing fields, or in the quiet of the Abbey Cathedral -- wherever life at the College draws him, an Abbeyman is aware that something special, something indefinably unique is shaping him into the individual person it is his destiny to become.

These pages attempt to record pictorially some segments of that way of life, to preserve for memory the cherished days spent at Belmont Abbey College.

It is the hope of all who are responsible for this publication that something of the Abbey spirit may be communicated to its readers.

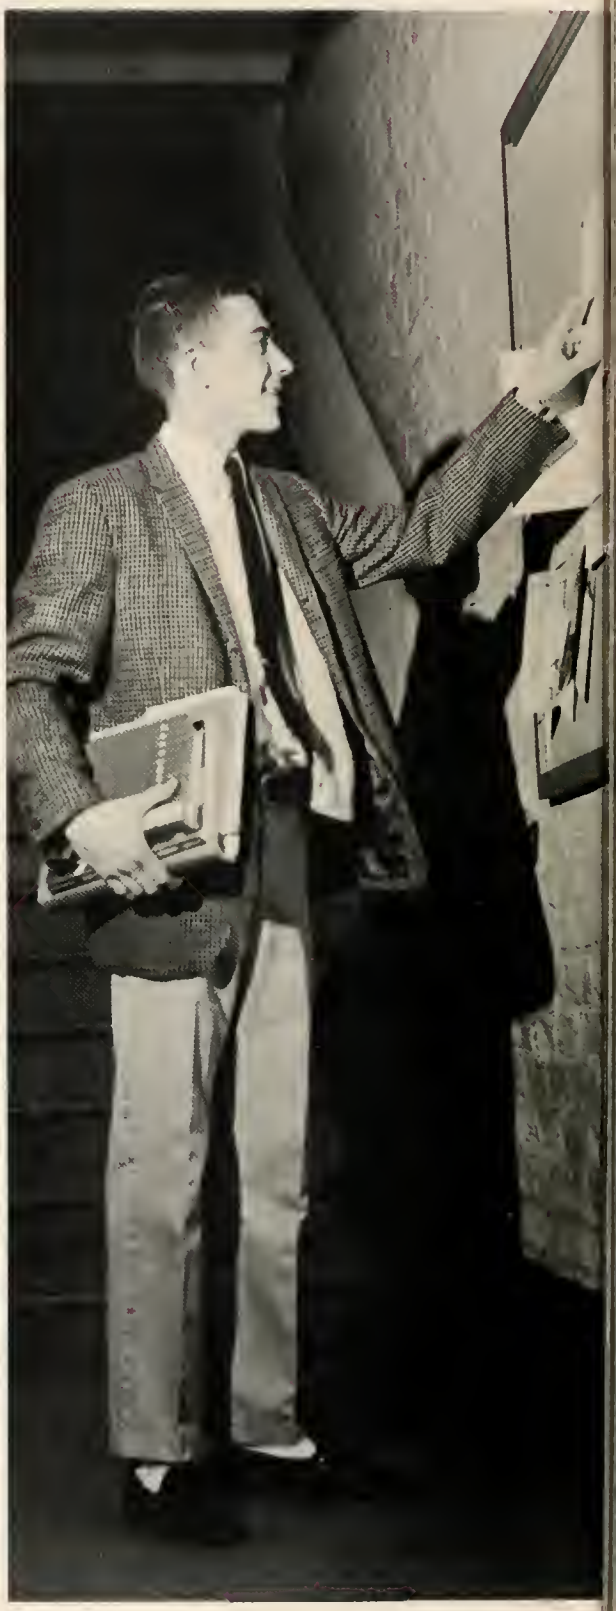
An informal class on the library lawn absorbing knowledge and North Carolina sunshine.



An Abbeyman examines final grades with feelings of fear and trepidation.

The trees that line the avenue are sometimes used for serious study.

The Abbot Vincent Taylor Library contains seminar rooms, study space, and authors from Aaron to Zygmund.

. . . socially,

Cool fun on a hot spring day.

The social life at Belmont Abbey can be as full as any student desires. On campus are two television rooms, two student lounges, and various athletic facilities.

Two formal dances in the course of the year and many other engagements with various co-ed and women's colleges in the area keep Abbeymen on the go. There is seldom a dull moment that is not interrupted by the familiar call -- Let's Go!

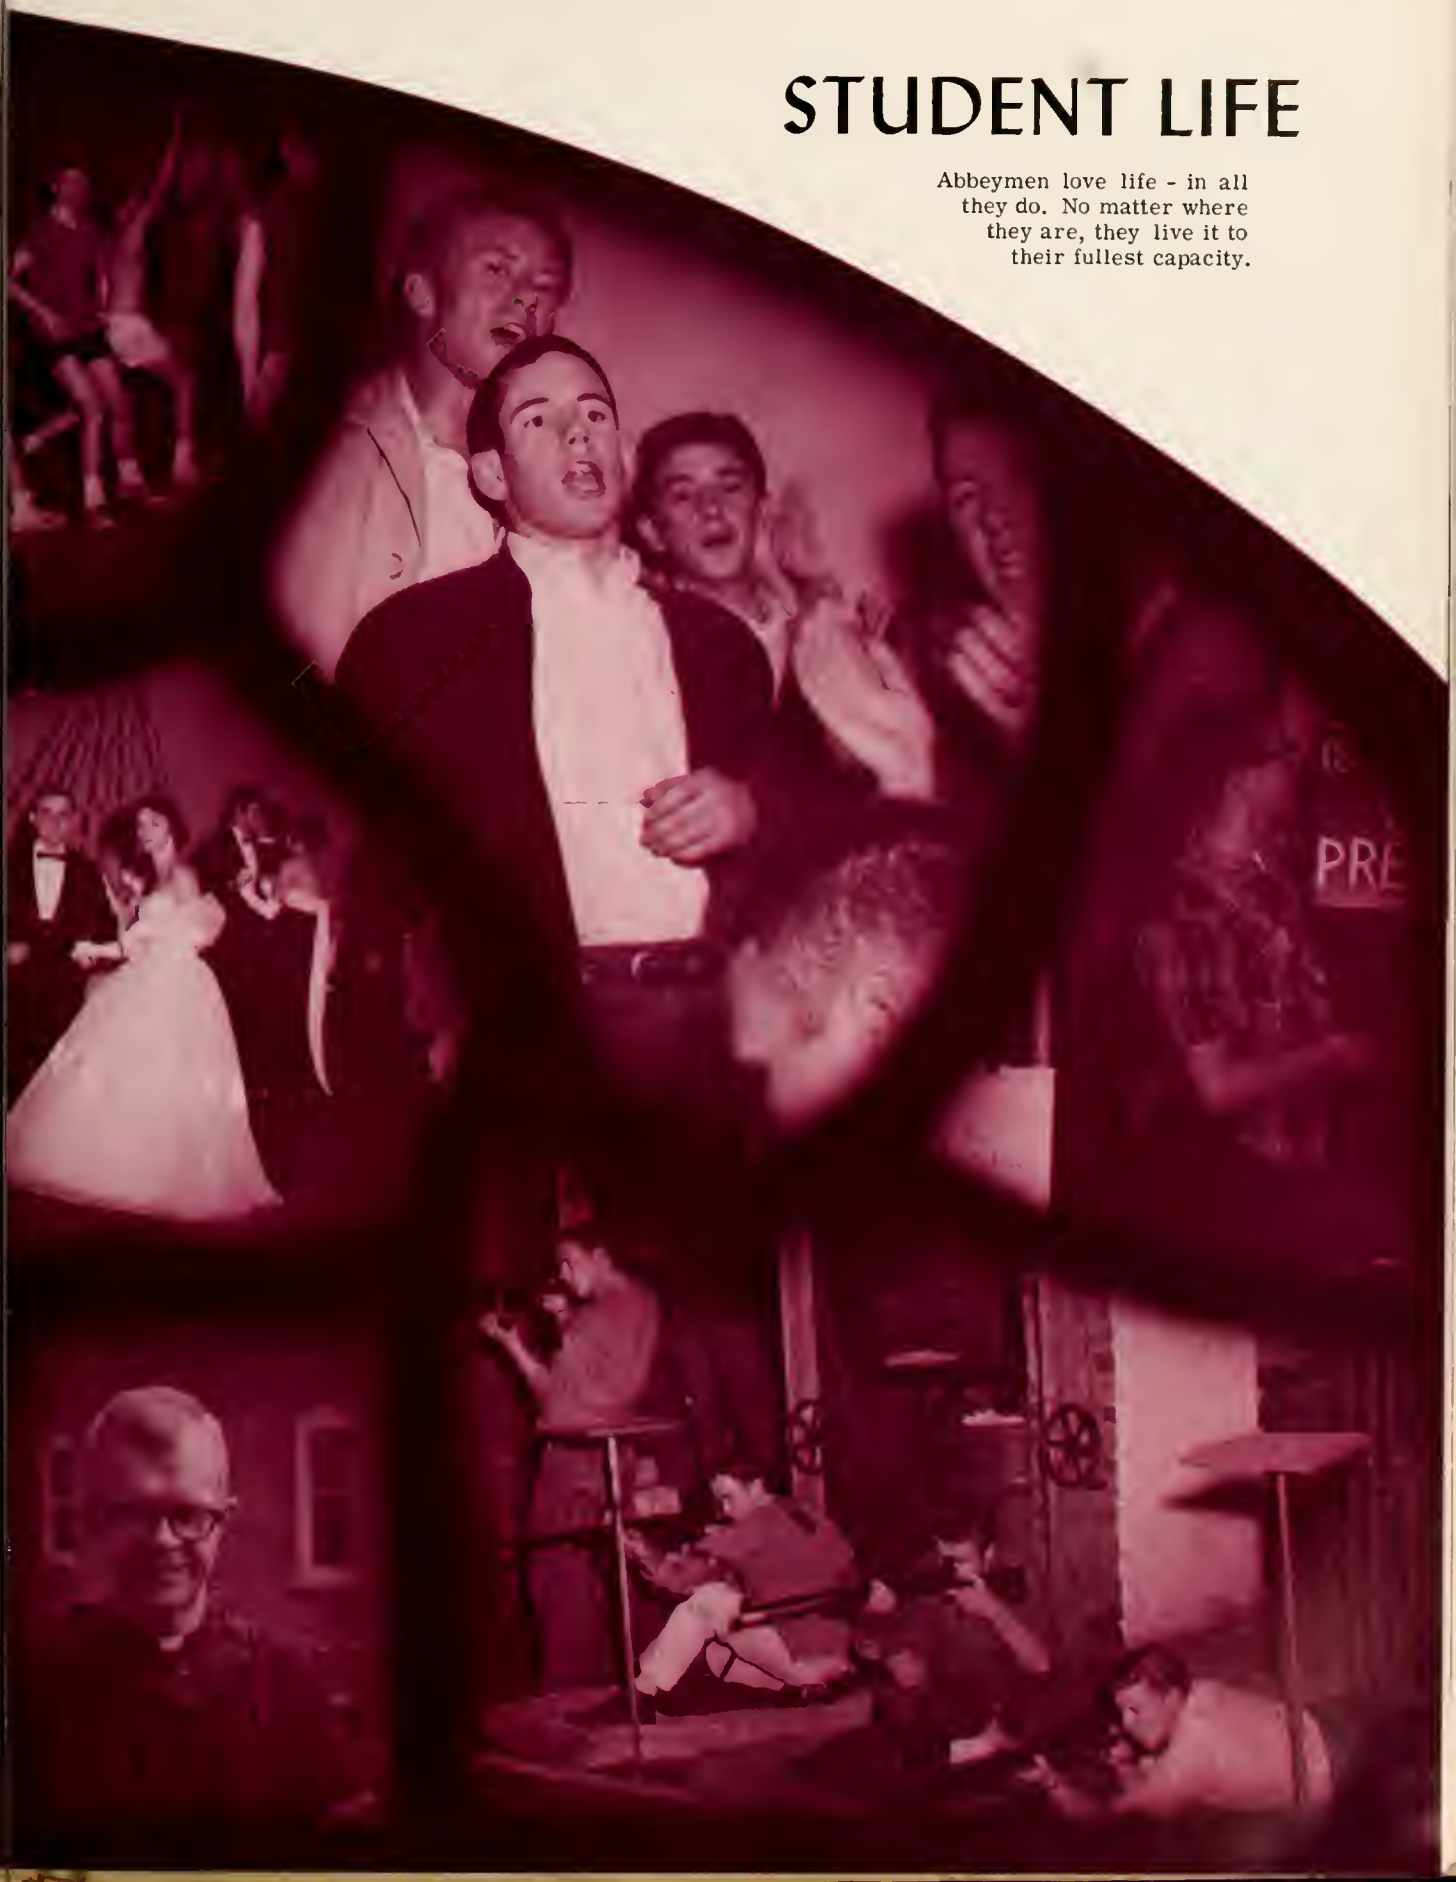
STUDENT LIFE

Abbeymen love life - in all they do. No matter where they are, they live it to their fullest capacity.



Reverend Raphael Bridge O.S.B. raises the monstrance at Benediction.

. . . spiritually,

A full and rewarding religious life with God is shared by students and faculty.

Love of God is a characteristic of the true Abbeyman. The beautiful gothic cathedral stands as a monument to the love which we pay to our Creator. It is the central point from which our prayers go forth.

A man is not mature unless his spiritual life is as well developed as his physical being and his intellectual powers. The home and family that the Abbey provides for her students is an ideal environment for development of the whole man. Students who are eager to profit fully from this environment attend the daily Conventual Mass and receive the Sacraments frequently. Their spiritual instruction is supplemented each Tuesday evening by a conference and Benediction given by the college chaplain.

Abbeymen, years after their graduation, will look back with longing on the closeness to God which they felt in their student days.

The Grotto of the Immaculate Conception, modeled on the famous grotto at Lourdes, blanketed with new fallen snow.

WE DEDICATE THIS ANNUAL

TO GEORGE HERNDL

Mr. Herndl,

This annual is dedicated to you in recognition of your fine and inspiring teaching and your active participation in school activities, but above these because you provide a figure worthy of imitation by every student at the Abbey.

Thank you, Mr. Herndl.

FOREWORD

We are attempting to do something different that will require the reader to use his imagination. Our goal is not only to produce a record of what happened at Belmont Abbey College during the school year 1962-63, but also to give the reader ideas about the roots of our Abbey school. On every page he will see the modern equivalent of what was present, to a large extent, in the Medieval monastic school. The monastery has retained many of the old traditions that were laid down by St. Benedict after the fall of Rome. Most of our games, speech, and habits have their roots deep in the Dark Ages. One need not stretch his imagination to see bowling on the village green, students engaged in campus politics, and the perennial ink stained hands.

The courses of study that Abbeymen pursue have developed through the ages. The metaphysics of St. Thomas now walks hand in hand with the nuclear physics of Einstein, while the humanities fashion a scholar's relationship with his fellow man and with God.

With pride we present, the SPIRE OF 1963.

NATURAL SCIENCE

The Natural Sciences are the offspring of the quadrivium. By looking at our modern world, one can see that the "Great God Science" has progressed in leaps and bounds since the day when Astrology and Geometry were of primary importance to the Men of Medicine. The emphasis, which was once placed on the stars, is now with the natural sciences as we know them today.

Belmont Abbey College stays abreast of the times by offering courses in the Biological Sciences, Chemistry, Engineering, Geography, Geology, Mathematics, Medical Technology, and Physics. We present to you the staff of the Natural Science Division.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

As education progressed through the years, one Social Science after another appeared in various schools. At first they were taught in order to compliment either the Humanities or the Natural Sciences, but soon the study of the Social Sciences became an important part of higher education.

These are the sciences of man and his relationship to society: History, Accounting, Business Administration, Education, Political Science, Psychology, Physical Education, and Sociology. Some of these have been in existence for only a relatively short period of time, while others are older.

Fr. Cuthbert has once again caught the flaw in a student's argument.

HUMANITIES

Since the earliest days of education, men have studied the Trivium, composed of Grammar, Logic, and Rhetoric. Then they advanced to the Quadrivium of Arithmetic, Music, Astronomy, and Geometry. The final phase of education was the study of Theology. Abbeymen study many of these same subjects under the title of the Humanities.

In this section, then, we present the professors who teach the Classical Languages, English, Fine Arts, Modern Languages, Philosophy, Speech, and Theology. These are some of the courses required by Belmont Abbey for a Liberal Arts education.

A small group, the Spire staff, produced this year, a major work of one volume which is an historical account of the happenings during the 1962-1963 school year.

The staff worked long hard hours to meet the deadlines set before it.

Now the deadlines are gone and the annual is finished for this year. Gone, too, are the arguments, re-drawings, re-writings, missed dinners, and strained friendships which accompanied its production.

But the finished product is here. The 1963 SPIRE - a success which made it all worth the effort and sweat.

. . . Publishing The Highlights At Abbey

CONTACT is the monthly newspaper published by the students of Belmont Abbey. Its chief purpose is to communicate and comment on events which take place during the month. It is also a touchstone for thought on topics directly affecting the students at the Abbey. Often it exercises its editorial prerogative so strongly as to raise controversy on the campus.

AGORA

The AGORA Staff, Bob Siebert, Frank Bernat, Don Hatton, Don Neuland, Tom Barthel, and Jim Caltagirone meet in O'Connell Lounge.

Thomas Barthel, Editor of AGORA.

AGORA is the literary magazine of Belmont Abbey. Published annually, this magazine selects poems, essays, short stories and critical opinions for inclusion in its pages. AGORA is in its third year of publication and has been received well by similar bodies in other institutions. AGORA means "meeting place" and through the years it has proven to be truly that -- an area where different works of art may be seen. This year, as in previous years, AGORA has been under the guidance of Mr. George C. Herndl and V. Rev. John A. Oetgen, O.S.B., who assists the editor in selecting manuscripts.

STUDENT TEACHERS

Mr. Walter Spear, advisor for Student Teachers, speaks with Miss Brenda Gillespie on some aspect of the curriculum.

Student teaching provides experiences which deepen the interest of capable students in teaching as a career. It encourages the careful selection and guidance of persons admitted to the program and through higher standards of preparation, contributes to the teacher supply.

The many liturgical functions which take place within the Belmont Abbey's Cathedral require lay assistants. The St. John Berchman's Society provides for the men of the Abbey to aid in these functions, both as acolytes and auxiliaries. These men form an integral part of services and are moderated by Frater Pascal, O.S.B.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Freshman orientation week began the Student Government's work, and the work continued until May when a new group of officers was brought in by the annual elections in May. The activities sponsored by this body included dances, movies, meetings, lectures, and many other forms of entertainment for the Abbeymen and their friends.

It is the goal of the Student Government to integrate the student's rigorous academic life with a pleasant social schedule. Today's Abbeymen have the difficulty of conquering the school's "growing pains." By exercising their own governance, they do their part to improve the Abbey.

Belmont Abbey's Senate legislates laws for the students, reviews questions presented to them by students or committees, and affirms or denies executive decisions and appointments.

Each year the Judicial Board is appointed by the President for the purpose of interpreting the constitution and rendering decisions in cases where conduct, tradition, or law have been violated.

MAY ELECTIONS, BASKETBALL RALLY

May 1962 saw the spirited and colorful student government elections. Screaming mikes, wind blown sheets, and mimeographed letters, all foretold the upcoming elections. In the warm May sun, candidates, after shaking sweaty hands, spoke with passersby about their qualifications.

Candidates shake hands as the balloting comes to an end.

In the background, the fire for the Student Government basketball rally blazes.

In the course of the year, the Student Government sponsored several pep rallys in support of the various athletic teams which represent the Abbey. These pep rallys always serve to boost morale and to build student unity.

RADIO WORKSHOP

Mr. John F. Darcy

When Abbeymen turn on their radios from eleven to twelve any night of the week, they can hear the best in popular music and the most scorching Belmont Abbey gossip. The Abbey Show also features news and some enlightening discussions on current events.

The Show works in conjunction with Radio Station WCGC in Belmont.

BUSINESSMEN'S CLUB

Each month, students interested in current business trends, meet to either hear a lecture by a prominent local businessman or to discuss topics among themselves.

The membership comprises mostly students majoring in Business Administration, but also includes any interested parties.

Officers of the Businessmen's Club:
FORE: August Lange, sergeant at arms
John Korte, vice president
Don Burlage, treasurer
Ed Riley, president
REAR: Mike Nalls, secretary
Mack McLoughlin, committeeman

MONOGRAM CLUB

Thad Malinowski, vice president
Hank Underhill, treasurer
Lennie Brown, secretary

Members of the Monogram Club are men who have earned their varsity letter in one or more major sports or through sustained service to them. Their main job is the fostering of athletic prowess among the students. After most home games, the club sponsors a dance in order to raise money to buy lettermen's jackets.

One of the highlights of the year is the annual spring barbecue, which the club holds in honor of Abbey's athletes.

Roger Bremekamp, sergeant at arms
Vincent Hirsch, social chairman

THE SERVICE CLUB

The Service Club is an organization which helps to make the various athletic events, such as home basketball games, run smoothly. Members of this club serve as ushers, takers, parking lot assistants and the like. The Service Club's members who fulfill a certain, required number of hours working for the club may earn a varsity letter and attend the annual athletic barbecue.

T. P. McDermott, vice president and Don Burlage, president.

KNEELING: Zittel, Rafferty, Hickey, Burlage, Evans, Reilly, Morin. STANDING: McDermott, Enzbrenner, De Kehoe, Salliez, Ferri, Inman, Clemens, Booker, Siebert, Sword, Patterson, Sullivan, Grandin, Kolnok, Mahoney, Ternamian.

A new group on campus, organized by Father Bertrand, Obl.S.B., is the Belmont Abbey Photography Club. The members have installed their equipment in a room in the basement of the old barn. The purpose of the club is to assemble students who are interested in photography so that they can collectively practice development processes and better photographic techinques.

With the acquisition of an observatory at the Abbey, the students can expect to see some very original and interesting pictures in the near future.

Father Bertrand Obl.S.B. gives the members of the Photography Club a lesson in composition. The members present are: Joe Ridder, Mr. Michael Dunn, John Hickman, Bill Wallace, Mr. Jack Lauff, Frank Becht, and Arnold Pruitt.

George Proudfoot, Bill Muller and Jerry McCluskey discuss camera techniques.

WIVES AUXILIARY

Mrs. Pat Justus, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Mary Cook, advisor; Mrs. Kay Montgomery, president.

Parents, faculty, and children enjoyed this year's Christmas Party.

Belmont Abbey's Wives Auxiliary was formed in order to help the wives of married students meet each other and share the problems which confront a wife whose husband is in school.

Picnics, a Christmas party for the children, bridge lessons, and lectures are calendared in the program of the Wives Auxiliary.

Some even cried when they saw Santa!

A small group of boys who live on the third floor of the Administration building and plan to join the Benedictine Order in the near future comprises the Abbey Auxiliary. They are a service to the school in distributing the mail and assisting Mrs. Edna Dunn R.N. in running the infirmary.

This friendly bunch is always doing favors for people and if asked, would give you the shirts off their backs.

Sorting the mail is Robert Sigmon, Fr. Clement, and Glenn Davis.

ABBEY AUXILIARY

Infirmarians: Rocco Sbardella, Frank Peters, and Jack MacManus.

The bookstore staff: (L TO R) John Korte, Fr. Justin Bain, O.S.B., and John Burke.

Mr. Michael Dunn

RAILROAD CLUB

Under the hand of Mr. Michael Dunn, an authority on railroads having had many of his articles published in railroad magazines, this club studies various railroads in the United States and often visits, on field trips, the railroads themselves. The Railroad Club is composed of men of Belmont Abbey who are interested in modern and old-time systems of railroads.

Members of the Literary Discussion Club: SEATED, Bill Culloty, Frank Bernat, Joe Raeth, Frank Parker, and Mr. George Herndl, sponsor. STANDING, Henry Conroy, Don Neuland, Don Cresswell, Bob Siebert, Dennis Carrigan, Don Hatton, and Frank Peters.

THE LITERARY DISCUSSION CLUB

Mr. Herndl and Don Cresswell discuss the optimistic aspects of LORD OF THE FLIES.

The Literary Discussion Club was formed some years ago with the purpose of discussing current works of fiction. Recently, the club has been meeting at the home of Mr. George Herndl, head of the English department. Various novels are selected, which represent the best recent art and lead to a better understanding of these works. Thus it is that the Literary Discussion Club makes its members more aware of the philosophies prevalent in contemporary society through the works it studies.

Tom Barthel, chairman of discussion.

North Carolina Alpha Rho Chapter of Phi Kappa Theta is the only Catholic national fraternity. The chapter is located at 1000 Old Hickory Grove Road in nearby Mount Holly and accomodates eighteen of the brothers with their house-mother.

During the year, the Phi Kappas have added many laurels to their sterling wreath. The fraternity succeeded in bringing the Catholic University Players to give a performance of "Othello" in the Belmont auditorium. The annual Tom Dooley project, in which the members collect thousands of dollars worth of drugs and hygene materials for Viet-Nam orphanages, was the most successful of the project's five year history.

Along with the work went parties and dances that were accompanied by the ever present spirit of unity in brotherhood.

Officers: Don Burlage, Treasurer; Hank Underhill, President; Tom McDermott, Secretary; Chuck McIlhinney, Vice-President.

Tau Kappa Epsilon made a big move this year by taking possession of St. Leo's Military Academy as its fraternity house. The new house includes several acres and a gymnasium and all within a stone's throw of Sacred Heart and the crossroads. All the brothers pitched in to decorate and repair the new quarters.

THE HIBERNIANS BROADEN

This is a year of historical importance for the Hibernians. After two years of negotiations with various national fraternities throughout the country, the club has finally narrowed the field down to an eligible few.

Becoming a colony of a national fraternity is a serious and deliberate business, so the Hibernians are progressing cautiously. But with 1963 being such a successful rush year, the continuance of the chapter is assured.

In order to raise money for their proposed juncture with a national fraternity, the brothers and pledges are allowing a national medical group to use them in a scientific experiment.

INTER-FRATERNITY COMMISSION

Paul Giles (T.K.E.), Pat O'Leary (P.K.T.), Jim Caltagirone (T.K.E.), Al Taylor (P.K.T.).

The Inter-Fraternity Commission of Belmont Abbey College has been duly established through the action of the Student Government. The object of this organization is to promote and perpetuate the best interests of the College and the fraternities associated with it and to insure cooperation among the fraternities and with college authorities.

Membership consists of two members from each fraternity and one faculty member appointed by the Dean of Students.

It is within the jurisdiction of this commission to make regulations concerning rushing, pledging and initiation procedures, and to impose suitable sanctions to insure their observance.

Mr. John Hanahan, Faculty Moderator.

THE 1962 CHRISTMAS FORMAL,

Everyone enjoyed the Christmas Formal as can be seen by the crowded dance floor above.

The Snow Ball is an annual event sponsored by the members of the Sophomore Class. This year, under the direction of Bill Falck, the attendance at the dance was larger than that of any preceding Christmas Formal.

Members of the committee, Tom James, John Murphy, Frank Odenwald, Gene Riggs, Dean Sword, Tom Dunn, Dave Jansson, Mike Rowe, George Proudfoot, Ernie Miller, Joe Oliver, and Mike Keenan, all had a full day of decorating and had prepared weeks in advance for invitations and sponsors. Their labors were well rewarded when everyone had a wonderful evening dancing to the music of the Ambassadors Orchestra.

When Student Government President Bill Cunninghan had the 'brain storm' about a Snow Queen for the Christmas Formal, the idea was quickly seized upon by the social committee headed by Chuck McIlhinney. The contest not only served as an exciting climax to the ball, but also provided the publicity which brought a record number to the dance.

All the organizations which were invited to participate eagerly submitted contestants and the Student Government was proud to present Miss Joan Grimm of Sacred Heart Junior College as its Snow Queen. To borrow a famous cliche - it was 'another Abbey first.'

LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENT

Throughout the 1962-1963 school year, Belmont Abbey audiences enjoyed a wide variety of entertainment and stimulating speakers. Bill Hanna and his quintet opened the season on September 20 with an afternoon jazz concert and a dance later in the evening. On March 4 Abbey students again welcomed the visit of National Players whose performance of OTHELLO thrilled a record audience.

Mr. Eldon Griffiths (Feb. 21) brought us up to date on modern Europe and its relation to the rest of the western world, while Mr. Lewis C. Thomas' illustrated talk on communications in outer space, based on his work with Telestar, helped to keep us abreast of developments in modern science.

We shall not soon forget the inspired reading of St. Paul's praise of charity as given by John Fleming (Oct. 16) in his program of art songs, arias and readings. Nor shall the haunting beauty of the Schuman-Liszt "Dedication" as played by Theodore Ullman (Feb. 6) easily escape our memories. But perhaps most memorable of all is the welcome relief from the midwinter doldrums brought to us by Joe and Penny Aronson's program of international folksongs and satire (Feb. 12). We profited not only from their program, but also from their easy and informal discussion afterwards.

An evening with the poet and author Mark Van Doren (Mar. 7) is like an evening with the gods. As the Abbot Vincent lecturer for 1963 his communication with us brought the season to a close with a splendid tribute to the memory of our late Abbot.

Spirit at the Abbey is always ardent, often fiery. From the basketball court to the Nursery of Holy Angels, Abbeymen show a certain pride in their activities, a pride which is manifest in their numerous undertakings, in their team enthusiasm, in their friendships, and in their hope and desires.

It is Abbey's spirit which drives men on to victory, to greater undertakings, and it's Abbey's spirit which consoles in defeat and mitigates shortcomings.

ATHLETIC

The Athletic Department, headed by Coach Wheeler, deserves a big hand for the job it has done over the past few years. It has broadened the athletic outlets for the students. Coach Ted Crunkleton has developed some pretty good soccer and baseball teams over the last few years -- teams which have and will reward his effort.

Coach Al McGuire has managed some fine teams, and though his team this year did not pan out as well as could be expected, it gives every indication of a tremendous future. Here at the Abbey, intramurals have been built into a fine program in which every student can participate.

The 1962-1963 Belmont Abbey basketball season saw many disappointments and, at the same time, bright hope for the future. Although the Abbey lost fifteen of its twenty scheduled games, it lengthened its homecourt unbeaten streak to seven years under Coach Al McGuire.

There were six teams in the league and they played two rounds. The Class of 1963 won the title for the fourth year in a row and did it in grand style by going undefeated.

Intramural basketball is one of several sports programs open to the Abbey student. In an effort to provide Abbeymen with the facilities for keeping in shape, the College has sponsored and organized this informal development schedule.

This year's intramural basketball saw a increased participation in five new teams, rounding the program out to twenty squads. In order to meet this increase, two brackets had to be arranged with a schedule of nine games a team.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Don Burlage, treasurer

These are the seniors to whom the Abbey bids farewell. They are the Class of 1963 and have proven that they are eligible to integrate themselves in a world requiring considerable knowledge, creative skill, and a wholesome philosophy of life.

The officers have decided on a class gift which will be revealed later and promises to be a great boon to the school. Graduation will usher out one of the most powerful athletic groups in the intramural program. In addition to entering teams in all other sports events, the seniors have won the season in football for four years.

The Class of 1963 will be missed but their memories and work will live on at their college. Belmont Abbey hails its graduates proudly as men and women who have accomplished no mean task in the eyes of man and his Creator.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Pictured above are the officers of the class from which next year's leaders of the Student Government of Belmont Abbey College will come. This year, the Juniors took an active part in the affairs of the student body, and its members were largely present in the organizations thereof. The class eagerly awaits the new school year when it will take its place at the head of the student body.

Under the capable direction of President Gerard Zoby, this year's Junior Class sponsored the very successful Spring Formal held at the Peppermint Lounge in Charlotte. The Juniors also placed teams in intramural bowling, basketball, and softball leagues. A New Year's Party and an outing in the Spring were two other enjoyable functions sponsored by the Junior Class.

Surely the Class of 1964 will continue to present to Belmont Abbey a class of which the school can well be proud.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Happy to see old friends and satisfied to be in familiar surroundings, the sophomores returned ready to surmount all obstacles. They were crushed when they found out that the second year was difficult. By their long faces one can tell that they have existed for a full year under the strain of the curse called the "sophomore slump."

Great strides forward have been made by the class with the help of Mr. Hanahan, class moderator, and Father Raphael, class chaplain.

Freshman Orientation was organized and administrated by the sophomore class. So too was the Christmas Formal Dance. Both these undertakings, projects of gigantic proportions, were realized in such a way as to be to the credit of the class.

Certainly none will forget the class project of campus beautification, called N.A.W.P., which just about drained the treasury. Thanks to the Sophomores, the path to O'Connell Hall is now lined with beautiful holly shrubs.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

A feeling of pride glows within the new student as he gazes at the tall spires of the Abbey Cathedral. Four years hence he will again gaze upon those two majestic prayers to God with another kind of pride, that of accomplishment. He will look back upon his first year, this year, at the Abbey as the year when he was a novice, a newcomer; but in spite of his shyness he didn't feel alone. On his first day he met an upperclassman and fellow Abbeyman who helped him with his trunks, and answered his many questions.

Thus it was that he met the first of his many new friends. With orientation week behind him, he was to enter with enthusiasm into intramural football, bowling, basketball, and baseball along with other extra-curricular activities. His class made a success of the St. Patrick's Day Dance and they built the brightest bonfire ever for the first pep rally.

Altogether, he will look back upon this first year at the Abbey as the beginning of a new way of life.

Electricity is the biggest bargain in your budget!

While ways to use electricity go up, costs go down! There are now 162 residential uses of electricity to improve your standard of living, and they cost less now to operate. Actually the average cost per unit of residential electricity has gone down more than one third in the past ten years. Check for yourself: Divide your next bill by the number of uses in and around your home. Then you'll see why Reddy's wage is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

The Spire Staff wishes to thank everyone who had to do with the successful completion of this book.

Personal thanks must go to Mr. Dezmond Waters, Mr. Don Cresswell, Mr. Jerry McCluskey, and Mr. William Muller without whom this annual would never have been completed; to Ginny Winget who, behind the scenes as was Father Kenneth our advisor, did much to assure the SPIRE'S success; to Mr. Brian Ternamian our superb artist and last--to the students, faculty, and administrators, who, seeing our problems, bore with us on several occasions.

The final thanks go to Delmar--we do not deserve such patience from anyone. Thank You, too.
